Always an aluminum walker with wheels on the front. Exhausting and uncomfortable. This time, I got a Rollator. This is so much easier, so much sturdier, so very much nicer. It rolls smoothly. Its very steady. The seat is comfortable. The underseat storage is ample for all my knitting and purse and drink, etc. Top it off with locking breaks and it folds. Its wonderful! Its so convenient. I dont feel disabled. I feel able. The product I received was either used or the post office handled the box carelessly, not sure. The walker itself was in good condition and matched the description on the Amazon website. The walker supports people up to 350 pounds, however the seat does not. Its a smug git and I do not weight 350. The black star screws or knobs used to put the walker together uncrews itself when putting it in and out of the car. I had to replace the knobs with nuts and bolts. Again for the small price I paid, I really didnt expect a perfect walker. The walker looks great and since I replaced the black knobs with nuts and bolts, its works perfectly. I just wish the seat was wider. I will let you decide if you want to purchase this walker. If money is right and its needed by you or a loved one, making minor changes may not seem too bad. Now, if you or your loved one has a wide bottom like myself, then do not purchase the walker. I couldnt change the seat size, but you mightThe chair part is a blessing but he hospital gave me a functional Walker, thank godThe walker is great. I love the bag under the seat to help transport things from one room to another. The fact that this holds up to 350 pounds is wonderful. I have to bend over when I use it, because the arms do not offer enough holes to get it any taller. Otherwise I love the walker. I would recommend it to everyone who needs one! I almost bought one at the drugstore for 3x this price. Very happy. Its a little complicated to put together but once you get it is is not too bad! My 83 year old Dad loves this walker. I switched him from the cane to this walker and he can move quicker and better. He has COPD so when he walks he needs to take breaks so the attachable seat is awesome and very sturdy. Hes 6feet 193 lbs and the handles adjust to height. Took him to his doctors appointment and he was moving so fast down the hall he left me in the dust. He was Gone! Lol. Great product. See more VS Most helpful negative review 5 customers found this helpful Average Rating 1.0 out of 5 stars Poor manufacturing I ordered this item twice and the first time the backrest bar was missing. The next time the plastic on the handlebars was cracked and the brake was not usable. Doesn't say much for quality control. Will go buy one I can see. The brakes are already assembled and no tools are required. However, the instructions are poor and only show pictures of how it goes together with very little instructions. This could be confusing for people who are not familiar with equipment like this. The wheels roll easily on carpet or tile. It has a nice area under the seat to carry your purse when shopping or any other items you may need when you are out. The backrest is padded and very comfortable. The handlebars are wide and also comfortable for your hands. It will also adjust for much taller people. It is very sturdy and I feel that I am well supported when using it. I saw other walkers for a lot more money that did not look as nice as this one and had far fewer features than this one. See more shlbycindy, March 13, 2011 Top 500 contributor 168 36 Average Rating 5.0 out of 5 stars Sitting Pretty I am so glad that I chose this walker. I can walk but I get weak really quickly due to my health and this gives me more freedom than a wheelchair. The breaks not only work well, they lock so that you can sit down without worrying about the seat rolling from under you when you go to sit down. The best part was that when I received that walker the backrest had a tear in it and when I called the company they immediately mailed a new back rest free of charge, no questions asked. Now that's what I call customer service. Under the seat is not only a large pouch but under the actual seat is a zippered pouch. I love that the pouch is not see through because I don't want people to see what I am carrying if I want to put my purse in there. Great buy. See more Wanzzy, March 29, 2013 Top 500 contributor 96 14 Average Rating 5.0 out of 5 stars Present for Mom My family and I purchased this as a birthday present for my 84 year old mother. It needed to be light weight, easy to use, durable and reliable. This one filled all the requirements at a very competitive price. It was easy and quick to assemble without tools.

Several heights to choose from, hand brakes with comfortable grips and a padded bar to use as a backrest made it easy to customize for her. It folds simply and quickly to transport, but when it is open it is very sturdy. The seat is a storage container complete with a velcro sealed pouch for ID, money or other valuables and a stationary strap in the bottom to secure items. This leaves hands free for operation during use. Large wheels roll freely and maneuver easily. The braking system works very well and has a locking feature to use during standing or sitting to ensure no runaway accidents. My mother is under five feet tall and not extremely strong, but she can use this to enjoy outings where she would normally tire easily from having to walk long distances or from having to be on her feet for extended periods of time. See more Newtoye, August 15, 2014 Verified purchaser 58 6 Average Rating 5.0 out of 5 stars better than expected. This walker fit my elderly mom perfectly. She had been using an older type that had tennis balls on the back legs. This new one is so much easier for her to control and walk with. Because of the nice 360 type wheels she has no problems making her turns. The brakes, seat, and backrest work great. High quality walker that more than fits the bill.
